

Your World, Your Money

A GLOBAL THINKING FOUNDATION USA PODCAST

---

Cryptocurrency and Web 3.0:

- Both Mika and Miranda encourage assessing what your goals are for owning cryptocurrency before purchasing.
  - Wallets are essentially free to create but consider the use-cases (tech, store of value, memes) when considering a purchase.
- Getting started in cryptocurrency is also a journey into Web 3.0, where interaction on the Internet has expanded in various spaces such as gaming and digital art. (e.g., in-game currencies paid to players, NFTs, etc.). In addition, Crypto and NFTs have redefined the means for verification, ownership, and transactions.

Diversifying Financial Institutions:

- What specifically drew Mika to cryptocurrencies was a phenomenon within the Philippines where crypto was incorporated into the online game, Axiom Infinity, and encouraged millions of players to play.
- As illustrated, there are now numerous ways to interact with crypto. But the fundamentals of finance are still encouraged. When doing research, be sure to consider more than the face value of the currency.

Additional Takeaways from Mika and Miranda:

- If interested in investing or purchasing cryptocurrencies, feel free to check out Mika's Youtube channel at Mikaela Reyes, where there are explainers and tutorials on various crypto platforms and currencies. Resources are also available at mikareyes.com.
- Miranda is also a writer on all things finance. To read her insights, visit her website at mirandamarquit.com. There are various resources, including blogs covering financial topics such as investing and also NFTs!

Season 3, Episode 05:

The Realities of Cryptocurrency

Guests: Mika Reyes and Miranda Marquit

GLT

